ECHO 1996
ENFIELD HIGH SCHOOL
ENFIELD, CONNECTICUT

Over the past four years Enfield High School has been through many changes. Longtime principal Mr. Leo Yaconello retired and was replaced by Mr. Joseph Gallucci. Brand new spotlights, sophisticated stage lighting, and high-tech sound system were added to modernize the auditorium. The entrance to EHS was beautified by the addition of a decorative, green and gold, wooden sign. Our old sign was placed on the front of the A-building. Through the help of many dedicated volunteers a weight room was added to our school. Many caring parents decided to form active parent groups within the school. The "tunnel" was reconstructed and an elevator was built to connect the D-wing with the gymnasium in order to make Enfield High more handicap accessible.

The class of 1996 has changed as well. Our freshman year insecurities and uncertainties about the four years that lay ahead of us turned into questions and dreams about the future. But we must remember that life is change. Never be afraid to accept change because without it, there would only be stagnation. So, no matter what changes life has in store for us, we can be sure that we will use the knowledge we gained during our brief stay at Enfield High School to make the most of them. Good luck and best wishes to the graduating class of 1996!

DEDICATION

With heartfelt gratitude the class of 1996 is proud to dedicate our yearbook to a very special lady, Mrs. Pamela Gregory. We, who have known her influence, call her teacher, class advisor and, most importantly, friend. With a smile on her face and warmth in her heart, Mrs. Gregory is always ready and willing to lend a helping hand, offer sound advice, and words of encouragement when needed. Her generosity along with her kind and caring ways make her a pleasure to know. Admired by many as a wonderful teacher, she is truly a credit to her profession. She has played a large part in all our achievements and important events that have meant so much to us, such as the giant tag sale, car wash, and bottle drive. Mrs. Gregory, we greatly appreciate all that you have done and we thank you for making our years here at Enfield High such happy and memorable ones.
